“Children’s In Field”

Magnificent oil painting on canvas
by Mary Vickers.

Prize Value: $3,500

This painting was sponsored by Gerald & Devorah Castor.

Mary Vickers

Mary Vickers was born and raised in a small village just outside London, England. Her earlier training made evident her predilection toward art. She immediately exhibited an extraordinary talent for capturing the many moods and emotions of the human figure. Mary's formal art studies were at the St. Martine School of Art where she worked under the best artists of the time, as well as frequenting the world famous London museums and galleries. The aura of love which permeates the paintings of Mary Vickers is the most prominent characteristic of her work. There is no mystique, no use of gimmicks or tricks, just a simple direct statement. Whether the subject be children, sweethearts, or mother and offspring, there is a tenderness and purity of love which exudes from the paintings and embraces the viewer with soul-searching tenderness. This explains the overwhelming reception her paintings invariably receive from the critics and art-oriented public.

Sailboat

Unique oil on canvas painting of sailboats by Bob Sanders.

Prize value: $1,200

This painting was sponsored by Gerald & Devorah Castor.

Bob Sanders

Bob Sanders was born in Leeds in 1945 and went to school in London. He spent six years travelling abroad in America, Australia and New Zealand. Whilst in Australia, he studied for a year at the University of New Zealand. On his return, he studied at the Barking College of Art where, for a time, he also lectured in graphic design. He now works full-time as an artist and printmaker and also designs stage scenery.

A pioneer in the technique of screen printing during its resurgence in the seventies, Bob Sanders continues to stretch the medium to its fullest extent. In fact, he was the recipient of a major US art award for his breakthroughs in this field.

His work has been widely exhibited in the UK, USA, Europe, Australia, New Zealand and Israel.
